The 125th Anniversary Scholarship Initiative:
Making dreams possible for exceptional students
At the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, we are wholeheartedly committed to providing the best in medical education. Since 1893, we have met this goal. We consistently rank among the top three schools of medicine. Our students train at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, one of the nation’s top-ranked hospitals. Our alumni lead in all medical disciplines; their impact is extraordinary.

Yet the specter of debt forces many excellent students to choose other schools, making scholarships crucial to our educational mission. With your help, we can recruit top students regardless of their financial need, and thus sustain the unsurpassed excellence of our student body and the world-changing contributions of our graduates.

Central to our celebration of the School of Medicine’s 125th anniversary, we are placing new emphasis on endowed scholarships — and offering donors a special incentive. It has never been easier to create an endowed scholarship at Johns Hopkins and support exceptional students who aspire to launch high-impact careers in medicine or biomedical science.

A SPECIAL OPPORTUNITY

Thanks to a recent generous gift, we can now offer a $12,500 incentive that puts endowed scholarships within reach of more donors.

Which gifts qualify for the incentive?
The incentive pertains to all new gifts and pledges of $100,000 or more to support medical student scholarships. It also applies to deferred scholarship gifts (bequests, annuities, and trust gifts) made by members of the classes of 1967 and all prior years. The incentive is available, first-come/first-served, until its allocation is fully distributed.

Do I qualify for the incentive if I add to my existing endowed scholarship fund?
Yes! Your gift of $87,500 or more, added to your existing endowed fund, will qualify for the incentive.

Is there a time limit on the incentive?
The incentive will be in place until December 31, 2018, or until its allocation is fully distributed.

Who benefits from the scholarship?
Scholarships will be offered to medical students who demonstrate both outstanding merit and financial need.

How will my support be recognized?
We will work with you to develop a plan for recognition, either public or anonymous, which you find meaningful. We will send you an annual report and, if you desire, we will arrange for you to meet the student(s) who benefit from your gift. The student(s) whom you support will write to you personally to express their vision, plans, and gratitude.
